

TRANSFORMATION IN TRANSIT

A STORY OF OWNING CHANGE

Owning change in transportation

Our client is a worldwide leading supplier of IT solutions for public transport—a powerhouse managing a global fleet of over 100,000 vehicles. Their fully integrated, intelligent systems give a holistic view of transportation from start to finish, managing daily tasks in planning, ticketing, operations control and real-time passenger information for their customers.

THE PROPOSITION:

Mass transit migration

Maximizing investments is critical for future-forward thinking in today's ever-changing technical landscape. To better provide innovative IT strategies for their public transport clients, our client needed a flexible yet secure framework for cloud-based transportation solutions—assessing, designing and implementing Amazon Web Services \(AWS\).

They sought a partner with a commitment to pragmatic and lean processes and a proven success record of cloud migrations.

OUR PROPOSAL:

Caravan to the cloud

How do you gain momentum in the disruption game? By moving to the cloud faster. We partnered with our client to set up a cloud strategy and foundation for future cloud success. As an AWS Advanced Consulting Partner, we worked together to create a repeatable AWS framework to utilize with their transportation clients. From design, migration and implementation to adoption and improvement.

POWERFUL PARTNERSHIP:

En route to endless opportunity

Leveraging our AWS practice capabilities, we laid the AWS groundwork to achieve our client's vision and prepare them for future-forward cloud initiatives. When complex technical challenges arose, we swerved to find new innovative IT solutions. We were instrumental in setting up and deploying an environment our client could leverage for future success, paving the way for change.

Real-World Results

Full speed ahead. With brand new cloud capabilities, our client increased the speed to market to which they develop and deploy their products to clients. Our partnership created operational efficiency and continual business improvements as well as shaped new methods of innovation offered to their clientele—allowing them to provide maximum value to their clients for their technology solutions.
